

Poké Population Explodes!

Illustrations by Jon Anderson
Translations by Jonathan Ng

Gold & Silver unleashed 100 new pocket monsters — have you caught 'em yet? If not, check out PoJo's exclusive images.

#152 Chikoriita

The Leaf on Chikoriita's head usually has a faint, sweet smell. A bit meek, it loves to bask in the sun.

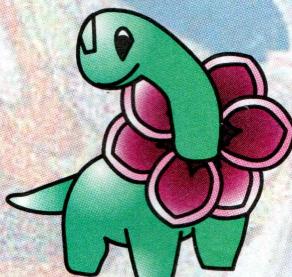

#153 Beirifu

Beirifu's neck squirts out a spicy scent that induces an unwillingness to fight.

#156 Magumarashi

If Magumarashi's back is pointed toward you, watch out! It's about to use its back flame attack.

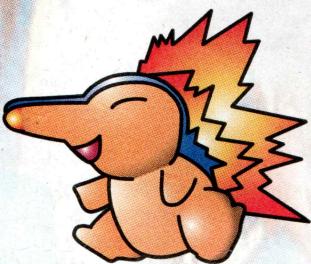

#154 Meganiumu

A part of Meganiumu's petals has a smell that induces calm.

#157 Bakufuun

When Bakufuun's anger reaches its peak, any object that touches it will instantly burst into flames.

#155 Hinoarashi

It curls up in a cowardly ball. It can be taught to protect itself by shooting the flames on its back.

#158 Waninoko

Because Waninoko's Powerful Jaws can crush even adult trainers, you need to be careful.

Every time you think the world of Pokémon can't get more exciting, it does.

What other card or toy maker has ever come up with 100 new characters within the short span of a few months? Nintendo, of course.

In early 1996, Pokémon descended on Japan. The 151 pocket monsters soon became a big part of Japanese culture as Pikachu and friends made their way to soft drinks, foods, candy, toys and even an airline.

And now Nintendo has introduced 100 more Pokémon. The Gold & Silver Game Boy cartridges have unleashed new evolved forms of Pokémon, Baby Pokémon and more "Legendary" characters.

We won't see Pokémon Gold & Silver here in the United States until the Christmas season, but who can wait another seven months? We certainly can't — and we know you can't either. So, we're doing our best to reveal everything we can about these awesome Pokémon.

For starters, check out our exclusive illustrations of the 100 new pocket monsters:

#159 Arigeitsu

Fangs that fall out of its mouth will grow again and again. There are 48 fangs in a complete set.

#160 Oodairu

Its big, powerful jaws can bite and tear apart enemies' necks.

#161 Otachi

Standing on its tail, looking far and around, its sense of caution is strong.

#162 Ootachi

Its long and narrow body makes tunnels that other Pokémons cannot enter.

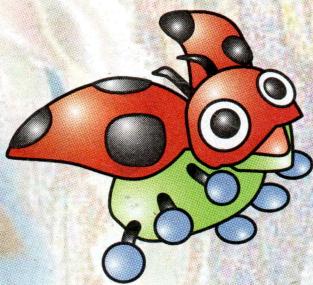

#163 Hoohoo

It always stands on one foot. Its foot switches so quickly that you can't see it.

#164 Yorunozoku

Its eyes are specially created. They can use even the dimmest of lights to see in the darkness.

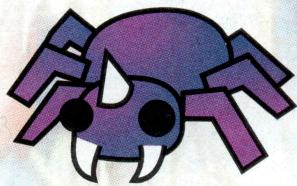

#165 Rediba

Lonely Redibas are afraid to move outside their boundaries, while a group of Redibas actively moves.

#166 Redian

When the stars twinkle at night, Redian flies around and sprinkles its glittery powder.

#167 Itomaru

It waits patiently for days until its prey rests, then strikes.

#168 Ariadosu

Because of the fur on its behind and the string coming out of its mouth, it's hard to tell which end is the head.

#169 Kurobatto

It quietly flies in the darkness with its four wings. Most do not notice it passing by.

#170 Chonchii

Its two tentacles can create sparks of positive and negative electricity that paralyze the enemy.

#171 Rantaan

Rantaan can send light penetrating 5,000 meters from the water's surface.

#172 Pichu

Continues to accumulate electricity. After Pichu discharges it, it will dance and smile.

#173 Pii

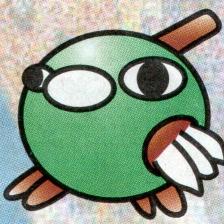

Its shape looks like a star. It is believed to have ridden along a shooting star.

#174 Pupurin

It has a very soft body. Once it rolls, it is unable to stop due to its inertia.

Poké Population Explodes!

#177 Neiti

When it moves, it looks like it's trying to jump and learn to fly. It's always staring at something.

#180 Mokoko

Excess stored electricity results in the ungrown part of its surface fur coming out.

#183 Mariru

Its fat body causes its tail to go in first when it swims in the river.

#175 Togepi

Its shell is packed with good fortune, so it can easily distribute it.

#178 Neitio

It's believed that Neitio's body looks like it's in the past and the future.

#181 Denryuu

The tip of its tail shines with a bright light. That light can guide people from far away.

#184 Mariruri

Its excellent hearing can identify sounds even in the middle of a violent storm.

#176 Togechikku

To express congratulations, it will bring continual good fortune to a good-hearted person.

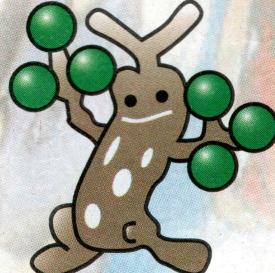

#179 Meriipu

Its static can make it swell up to two times its normal size. It paralyzes whoever touches it.

#182 Kireihana

Sometimes Kireihanas gather around and dance. This is called the sunlight ceremony.

#185 Usokki

Usokki always shakes its limbs. Its body is made from rocks and stones from the ground.

#186 Nyorotono

Nyorotono's croak gathers Poliwags and Poliwhirls from all over.

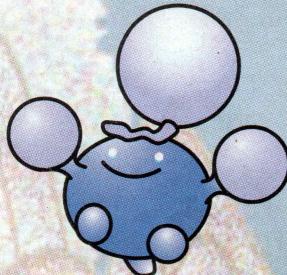

#187 Hanekko

Hanekkos gather together so they won't be tossed by a strong wind. But they do like floating in a light breeze.

#188 Popokko

The flower blooming on top of its head opens and shuts with the temperature.

#189 Wanekko

Wanekko allows its cotton spores to be carried around the world by the wind.

#190 Eipamu

Its strong tail can support its whole body when it's hanging from a branch.

#191 Himanattsu

Himanattsu often fall to the ground. Spearows learn to keep away from the violent storm of leaves falling with it.

#192 Kimawari

It is born using the sun's energy. When the sun sets, it unhappily closes its petals and stops moving.

#193 Yanyanma

When flying at high speed it can spin-crash into window glass and shatter it.

#194 Upaa

Upaa live in cold water. Its prey becomes cold and gets washed to the shore.

#195 Nuoo

Its carefree character and crazy swimming causes its head to hit ship's bottoms.

#196 Eefi

It can detect enemy movements by feeling the air currents with its body.

#197 Burakkii

When excited, its pores secrete a venom that is tossed at the enemy.

#198 Yamikarasu

This Pokémon is despised by most people because they believe it is unlucky to see it in the evening.

#199 Slowking

It can offer intelligence and insight but can be confusing or annoying, too.

#200 Muuma

It likes to play tricks on people using its cry to make them scream.

#201 Annoon

Its shape and form are similar to the letters on ancient stone tablets.

Poké Population Exploses!

#204 Kunugidama

It likes using bark from trees to cover itself. It doesn't mind the heaviness.

#207 Guraigaa

It flies in the face of prey. When its prey gets tired and scared, it strikes with its poison needle.

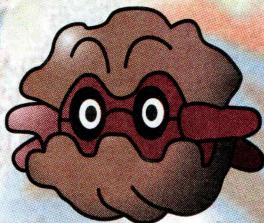

#210 Guraburu

Truly scary. It chases its target relentlessly, hitting until it gives up.

#202 Soonansu

It hates light and shocks. When attacked, its body swells and it counterattacks powerfully.

#205 Foretosu

It conceals all of its body using a hard armor-like shell. No one knows what it looks like inside.

#208 Haganeeru

Extreme pressure under the surface of the ground transforms its body into diamond.

#203 Kirinriki

Its small tail has a head. It creates a smell to draw others close, and then bite them.

#206 Nokotchi

When somebody sees its tail on the ground, it digs backwards to escape.

#209 Buruu

It has a scary face, but its big heart makes Buruu a very popular Pokémon.

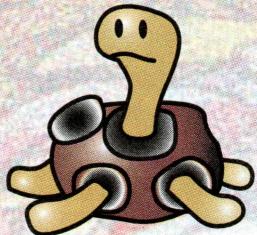

#211 Hariisen

Poison needles fly out of Hariisen when it drinks 10 liters of water in one breath and swells.

#212 Hatsamu

The eyeballs on the attached claws watch for enemy threats.

#213 Tsubotsubo

Nuts stored inside its pot-like shell dissolve into a syrupy liquid.

#214 Herakuros

The instant it thrusts its horn into an enemy, it lifts it up in a powerful hold.

#215 Nyuura

Sharp claws are hidden inside its palm. Without warning, it extends its claws to cut the enemy down.

#216 Himeguma

It discovers nectar when the new moon shines. It licks the sweet nectar off its hand.

#217 Ringuma

Forelegs, made for climbing trees, can break a tree trunk so Ringuma can eat the nuts inside.

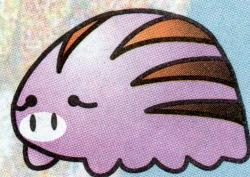

#218 Magumaggu

Magumaggu comes out of lava and then its body cools and solidifies.

#219 Magukarugo

The skin on the back of its shell easily crumbles when something touches it.

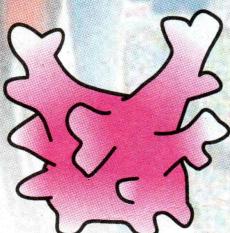

#220 Urimuu

Urimuu digs its nose into the ground to search for prey. Occasionally, it finds a hot spring.

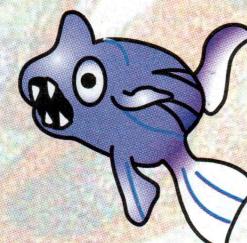

#221 Inomuu

Long fur covers its eyes so much that it repeatedly crashes into things.

#222 Seniigo

Because of Seniigo's beautiful features, it is popular and very treasured.

#223 Teppouo

Its aim is perfect. Water spray can hit any target within 100 meters.

#224 Okutan

It has a firm, stone head. Its tentacles wrap around its target, smashing it into its head.

#225 Deribaado

When a disaster occurs, Deribaado are sent out to rescue people.

#226 Mantain

It swims quietly in the sea. It doesn't mind being shot at by Teppouo.

#227 Eamuudo

Hollow bones allow Eamuudo to fly about freely.

#228 Derubiru

Their growls are different when communicating to allies than when chasing down prey.

Poké Population Exploses!

#231 Gomazou
It playfully swings its powerful nose around, making it dangerous to be near.

#234 Odoshishi
Changes in air currents produce its bent horns.

#237 Kapoera
Its beautiful and smooth dance kick fascinates all people.

#229 Heruga
Its mouth sprays fire and can burn enemies.

#232 Donphan
Its sharp tusks and tough skin are strong enough to break down a house.

#235 Dooburu
The tip of its tail can turn into paint, which it uses to color its boundaries.

#238 Muchuru
Its lips have the most sensitivity. Its lips conform to whichever lips touch it first.

#230 Kingdora
It conceals itself in ordinary caves at the bottom of the ocean and creates whirlpools on bad days.

#233 Porygon 2
Developed on another planet, Porygon 2 is an upgraded version of Porygon.

#236 Barukii
Always full of energy. Facing the enemy again and again makes Barukii stronger.

#239 Erekiddo
Its arms flail around when electricity is formed, but it tires quickly and does not endure.

#240 Bubii

Its breath extends whenever embers are coming out of its nose and mouth.

#241 Mirutank

The milk from Mirutank is very nutritious and is a popular drink.

#242 Hapinasu

Whoever eats Hapinasu's Lucky Egg can easily tame it.

#243 Raikou

Whenever it rains, thunder follows as well. Raikou is believed to come down with thunder.

#244 Entei

Its roar can erupt a volcano. It is believed to swell up inside to direct the lava paths.

#245 Suikun

It has the power to cleanse impure water. It is said to have been born from the North Wind.

#246 Yoogirasu

It eats soil as it moves. When it's finished eating a big mountain, it starts to sleep and grow.

#247 Sanagirasu

The strength needed to split its bedrock-like shell is enough to explode and collapse mountains.

#248 Bangirasu

When challenged, its body can blunt any and all attacks undisturbed.

#249 Lugia

Lugia uses quiet times to build strong brainpower at the bottom of the sea.

#250 Houou

Houou's splendid rainbow colored wings spread the legend of the rainbow.

#251 Serebii

Serebii wanders through time. It appears in overgrown forests and vegetation.